Page opens for viewing etc What went wrong? When opening a page in a new tab (right click) a white screen is displayed.. (is also back present on the page) Did this work before? N/A Chrome version: 57.. I appreciate you responding and trying to help, thank you Labels: Needs-Feedback Thanks for the log! I'm not seeing any network errors.

I have no extensions running I am beyond fed up I deplore IE but am having no such issue with IE and am tempted to not use Chrome, even though until now I have used it exclusively and prefer it.. I have posted on the chrome forum and followed suggested steps to no avail I have had no further replies.. 0 2987 133 Safari/537 36 Steps to reproduce the problem: 1 Google search 2 Right click result, open in new tab 3.. The slowest request takes about 4 seconds, which is pretty bad, but doesn't seem to be the source of the problem.

One thing that is weird is random events sometimes take multiple seconds - sometimes DNS, sometimes receiving data, etc.. I wonder if something isn't consuming a ton of CPU time on the IO thread When this happens, are other tabs responsive (Can you scroll them, or navigate them to HTTP URLs) without issue? Does Windows task manager show a chrome process using 1/[number of CPUs]% of CPU time? Could you gather a trace from about:tracing and upload it?.. Mac air driver for epson ex5200 projector (link to forum posting and the steps I have done so far).. Have you looked at my video to see what is actally happening? I have to do that everytime I open a page in a new tab before it will load?Any suggestions as to what could be doing this if not a Chrome issue? I only have my one profile, are you saying I need to create a whole new one? I am not PC savvy, hence posting on here for the help of experts:-).. 0 2987 133 Channel: stable OS Version: 10 0 Flash Version: Please help me resolve this.
